AI Overview

Leading Chinese manufacturers of electrical distribution box covers include EVT, Topele, Zhejiang B&J Electrical, and Yitai Lock, offering a range of steel, plastic, and waterproof enclosures with OEM/ODM options. Key Manufacturers

1. EVT Electrical EVT specializes in steel electrical box covers for switches, receptacles, and utility boxes. Their products meet international safety standards such as UL and are produced in ISO-certified facilities. EVT offers a variety of covers including handy box blank covers, switch covers, duplex receptacle covers, and GFCI covers, suitable for both residential and commercial installations. They provide competitive pricing and full arrangements of electrical conduits and fittings for global clients.
2. Topele Topele is a leading manufacturer of electrical boxes and covers in China, known for high-quality materials, precision, and durability. They offer wholesale options with timely delivery and after-sale service, catering to both domestic and international markets. Their products are suitable for industrial and residential applications, and they provide customization services for bulk orders.
3. Zhejiang B&J Electrical Co., Ltd. Located in Wenzhou, Zhejiang, B&J Electrical has 25+ years of experience producing distribution boxes, wall-mounted cabinets, floor-standing cabinets, stainless steel, and plastic boxes. They specialize in IP66, IP67, and IP68 waterproof enclosures and hold TUV and CE certifications. Their products are widely exported to America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and the Middle East, offering reliable and secure electrical operation.
4. Yitai Lock Yitai Lock manufactures industrial and household electrical panels, including plastic distribution box covers and fiber-to-the-home information box panels. Their products use high-strength ABS or composite materials, providing impact resistance, aging resistance, and safety features like explosion-proof observ...
