

How much does a relay protection device cost in Dubai

AI Overview

Relay protection devices in Dubai typically range from AED 30 for basic home voltage protectors to several thousand dirhams for industrial-grade protection relays.

Price Ranges

Home and small-scale relays: Basic self-resetting voltage protectors for residential use can cost around AED 32 per unit, as seen with products like the PROMASS Home Relay Self-resetting Voltage Protector available online in Dubai.

Industrial and commercial relays: High-quality protection relays, such as Relpol relays, are available at competitive prices, generally ranging from hundreds to a few thousand AED, depending on specifications, current rating, and features.

Relay testing and protection equipment: Devices like Megger SMRT46 or Multi Amp relay test sets are more specialized and can cost significantly more, with prices provided by authorized distributors upon request.

Suppliers in Dubai

GoSwitchgear: Offers a wide range of electrical relays and components suitable for circuit control and protection systems.

Creative Electrical: Supplies Relpol relays and other protection devices across Dubai, Sharjah, and the UAE, providing competitive pricing and reliable products.

MME-AE: Specializes in relay and protection testing equipment, ideal for industrial applications and ensuring system safety.

Electroshope: Provides a broad selection of electrical, automation, and energy products, including industrial relays and switchgear.

Noon.com: Offers smaller residential protection devices with convenient online ordering and delivery across Dubai.

Considerations

Prices vary based on relay type, voltage rating, current capacity, and brand. For industrial applications, it is recommended to consult authorized distributors to get accurate quotes and ensure compliance with local electrical standards. Online platforms often provide delivery and installation support, which can affect the final cost. By compari...
