

Ireland Low Voltage Complete Equipment Manufacturer

AI Overview

Key providers of complete low voltage equipment solutions in Ireland include GWEC, Argand Switchgear, BMC Manufacturing, Capital, and Ensto Renley. GWEC specializes in industrial low voltage systems operating below 1000V, providing safe and reliable power solutions for industrial machinery and equipment. Their offerings include power distribution systems, low voltage lighting, receptacle systems, backup power solutions, and auto-transfer switches to ensure uninterrupted operations. GWEC emphasizes customized, scalable solutions tailored to facility needs, focusing on energy efficiency and minimal operational costs. Argand Switchgear has over 25 years of experience manufacturing low-voltage switchgear and control panels for diverse industries. They provide rigorously tested, high-quality boards and maintain strong client relationships. Argand's expertise spans thousands of LV switchgear projects across Ireland and internationally, offering cost-effective, modern, and efficient technology through a proven supply chain. BMC Manufacturing offers a wide range of low voltage products and services, including switchgear manufacturing, UPS sales, prefabricated data center modules, and maintenance services. They cater to both industrial and commercial clients, providing comprehensive solutions for electrical infrastructure. Capital focuses on low voltage distribution and control systems for critical infrastructure and data centers. With a senior team boasting over 80 years of combined experience, they deliver robust LV switchgear solutions at scale, emphasizing precision, integrity, and mission-critical reliability. Capital is known for handling complex commercial and industrial builds with strict adherence to deadlines and quality standards. Ensto Renley, formerly Renley Ltd, is a specialist in low and medium voltage...
