

ST Automatic Crimping Machine for Ceramic Inserts

Overview

This double-head automatic terminal crimping and housing insertion machine is engineered for high-volume wire harness manufacturing, delivering seamless integration of cutting, stripping, crimping, and housing insertion in a single platform. ST-3000D Auto Ceramic Ferrule Crimping Machine (Electric) from SunmaFiber, your best supplier in fiber optic network, fiber testing, fiber polishing and fiber optic manufacturing, contact now! standard machine with a stroke of 30mm OTP high precision applicator, compared with ordinary Applicator, high precision applicator feed and crimp more stable. Different terminals only need to replace the applicator. This is easy to operate, and multi-purpose machine. Color touch screen operation. Please tell us what you think and share your opinions with others. As a global manufacturer of flexible PCB pin insertion machines and interconnect components, Autossplice offers a full range of automated assembly equipment tailored to your manufacturing requirements —streamlining your entire assembly line with precision automation tools, including integrated. Equipped with reliable high precision technology, the CrimpCenter 36 S features a compact modular design offering space for up to 6 processing stations without compromising the high Schleuniger quality standards of the 6-Series. Supporting both single-row and double-row housing.
