

Vertical Cable Tray Price Cover Plate

AI Overview

Cable tray vertical cover plates are available starting from approximately $0.95 per unit, with prices varying based on material, size, and supplier. Price Range and Suppliers

Low-cost options: Vertical cable tray components can start at $0.95 per unit on platforms like Alibaba, with customizable options for industrial and solar cable management applications.

High-quality covers: Suppliers such as Ekabel.24 offer durable, galvanized, or stainless steel covers suitable for indoor, outdoor, and heavy-duty applications. Prices for these high-quality covers depend on dimensions (e.g., 100x60 mm, 200x100 mm, 80x60 mm) and material, typically higher than basic low-cost units.

Material considerations: Galvanized steel is standard for indoor use, while stainless steel is preferred for outdoor or corrosive environments, which can increase the cost. Perforated or ventilated designs may also affect pricing.

Additional Considerations

Installation and accessories: Covers often require clamps, brackets, or support fittings, which may add to the overall cost. Modular systems allow for elbows, T-pieces, and reducers to customize routing.

Load and environment: Heavy-duty trays for industrial or manufacturing plants may require thicker or reinforced covers, increasing the price compared to standard residential or office installations.

Supplier selection: Prices vary significantly between bulk industrial suppliers, online marketplaces, and specialized distributors. Checking multiple sources ensures competitive pricing and compliance with standards like CE, IEC, or NEMA.

In summary, basic vertical cover plates can be purchased for under $1 per unit, while high-quality, durable, or specialized covers for industrial or outdoor use may cost significantly more depending on size, material, and supplier.
