

Zimbabwe electrical distribution box manufacturer supply

AI Overview

Zimbabwe has several reputable companies supplying and manufacturing electrical distribution boxes and related equipment, including Haivol Electrical, Sitho Electrical Boxes, and distributors like Power Life Energy and Prime World. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers Haivol Electrical (Max Haivo Electrical and Hardware Pvt Ltd) is a leading distributor of power transmission and distribution equipment in Zimbabwe. They supply a wide range of products including low and medium voltage equipment, surge arrestors, insulators, fuse cutouts, and complete electrical distribution solutions for industrial, domestic, mining, and agricultural sectors (Haivol Electrical). Sitho Electrical Boxes, located in Harare, specializes in electrical boxes and related equipment, serving local businesses and residential clients. They are recognized for providing quality electrical enclosures and distribution solutions (Sitho Electrical Boxes). Power Life Energy focuses on electrical distribution and renewable energy solutions, including the design and implementation of photovoltaic solar systems. While primarily an engineering firm, they also distribute electrical products and provide maintenance services, making them a key player in Zimbabwe's electrical distribution sector (Power Life Energy). Prime World offers premium solar and electrical products, including distribution boxes, for residential, commercial, and industrial clients. They distribute high-quality products from notable manufacturers, ensuring a diverse range of options for energy needs (Prime World). Additional Resources For a broader selection of electrical distribution boards and enclosures, ElectroSales Zimbabwe provides a catalog of distribution boards and related equipment, allowing businesses to check availability and pricing (ElectroSales). Additionally, The Directory Zimbabwe lists verified electrical distribution companies...
